Preserving the Year Back When

HERE is a distinctive sign of welcome here
 In an old pump
 with a young spring
 And red brick buildings with patterned sidewalks
 And the sheltered doorways of the year back when—
 A sign that the Past has walked this way—
 Or a sign of the times in bold letters
 Announcing—We Remember.
 We remember Salem—
 Not to be recalled in green and white paint
 so much as in
 A violet with the spring
 And dancers in the May Dell swaying—
 Their motions as old as expression itself,
 Reminiscent of all Salem's Mays— And her dancers.

C. 1880

1913

We remember arrivals.
"From the ends of the world" they came—
A long tradition of arrivals
All with the same flush on their faces,
Anticipating an experience as new
As the latest Model T Ford
And as old
As the 1966 edition of biblical studies.

1865

1910

We remember their voices,
Silent perhaps at mealtimes,
But still the same laughing voices
Young with the newness and the experiment
Of life together.
The sounds of two centuries mingle,
Adrift in the corners of South Hall,
In her curtained alcoves and her sunshine rooms.

C. 1890

And voices
Suspended
Are hushed in the hour of study.
The agony of an organic chemistry lesson
Rivals
“Plain needlework.”
We remember the shared PROCESS.
The individual expansion.

1947

And we remember the free hours,
The clack of the cue ball keeping rhythm to
A stringed orchestra.
Ladies in the dating parlors move at ease—
Recalling Social Etiquette,
And what is "In" for 1968,
Strangely patterned as it may seem,
Has the same ultimate DESIGN.

C. 1900

For we all proceed with the same motions
Against an immovable background
Of substantially traditional
 Red Brick.
Caps and gowns and a daisy chain
Freshly usher in the challenge
 To move beyond
 And to remember—
There is a distinctive sigh of welcome here.

Dedication

HE is tall, ruddy—an out-of-doors man. He looks happiest in hiking clothes—more often seen in long, white lab coat. He is the father of five—friend of many. As a teacher, he's one of the best. Just say you're from Salem, and undoubtedly you'll be asked if you know him.

"He was my high school biology teacher."

"He's one of the greatest in the Governor's School."

"Could you tell me where his office is?"

"How is he?"

"The best teacher I ever had—anywhere!"

At Salem, he presents innumerable challenges. Requires from his students a use of knowledge, a willingness to learn. Friendly. Interested. Multi-talented. Field biologist. Extensive knowledge in other fields. Conversationalist. Cowboy hat and boots on Founders' Day. He and son Scottie—a help to the Class of '68.

To you, Mr. Donald E. McLeod.

The end—all too quickly
The spirit soars
A corner tear
A yawning trunk
 Discloses white purity
 A graduation dress
 Folded four terms hence,
Worn with honor
“As proudly her name we bear.”

do you know...

that you are graduating into one of the most promising areas of the nation? A recent urban research study forecasts "a linear city" for the 300 miles stretching through the industrial Carolinas. Here, in the 20,000 square miles served by Duke Power, scores of thriving towns connect busy cities. Research centers, colleges and universities, and hundreds of industries thrive. Here in the Carolinas Crescent, there is real challenge and opportunity. There is a place for you to fill, a job for you to do, in an exciting future that begins —right now.

We couldn't photograph the typical Hanes customer.

The typical user of Hanes products just doesn't exist.

There are all the fashionable women who buy Hanes hosiery. Teenagers. Young adults. Grandmothers.

Father and son alike insist on Hanes underwear, sportswear and athletic uniforms.

The whole family wears our socks, and sleeps in our sleepwear.

The bassinet set gurgles its praise of Hanes infants' wear.

So, we just couldn't select one type as the average Hanes customer.

But we did find that all Hanes customers have one thing in common.

They buy our products for consistent quality and value. Two things the Hanes name has always stood for.

And always will.

There's nothing so obvious as a trend...

. . . and the trend at Edwards and Broughton Co. has always been toward better and more beautiful yearbooks . . . so that you, during the years to come, may continue to re-live those memorable school days – and “times gone by.”

And as time does go by, we will continue to set the trend in distinctive yearbooks.

Our special thanks go to Mrs. Albert H. Nilson, Director of Alumnae Affairs, and Miss Anne Carter Pollard for being so helpful when we were trying to find our "copy" and for allowing us to borrow the old books and pictures in the Alumnae House and the Grace Sivers room of the library.

We are also grateful to our 'other' photographers, Lynn Davis and Mr. Steve Pellegrini for helping out when Peter could not be reached.

We have portrayed for you the Salem of 1967-68; in addition, however, we have tried to preserve a little of those years "back when" with the hope that you will not only see the outward changes but also recognize those qualities of Salem that have never changed.
